INFORMATION AND TRAINING

Confetra pays specific attention to further analyse and disseminate all the legislative and technical information (at national and E.U. levels, as well as at trade union and administrative levels) which may be of interest to the categories it represents.

The information sector is based on circular letters, which are e-disseminated on a daily basis, and the bi-monthly magazine Confetra-Notizie.

Since 1997 Confetra has been issuing a quarterly document (the so-called Nota Congiunturale) on the national and international goods transport trends, drawn up on the basis of the data collected from a significant sample of member companies.

Confetra carries out training activities – directly or through its own national or local confederations – by organizing courses or workshops on specific topical issues. In particular, the following courses are worth mentioning: courses for the drivers of vehicles used for the transport of dangerous goods (ADR); the courses for people working in logistical centres; the courses for skilled technicians working in the field of international shipping and the refresher courses for shipping companies' workers. For the above stated courses – which are carried out on a yearly basis – E.U. funds have been provided.

Since 1989 Confetra has started training courses in many provinces to gain access to the profession of road haulers, on the basis of the specific authorization issued by the Transport Ministry pursuant to the Ministerial Decree n. 508 of November 5, 1987.

Since 1995 Confetra has been organizing training courses in some provinces on the operational procedures and working instructions to ensure quality in shipping companies (UNI EN ISO 9002 rules).
